GREETINGS FROM THE CLARK COUNTY COMMISSION

On behalf of Clark County, it is my pleasure to welcome all of the attendees of the International Code Council's 2019 Conference and Annual Business Meeting as you convene on October 20, 2019

The International Code Council (ICC) works with governmental jurisdictions world-wide to meet the ever-evolving demands of the industry, as well as the health and safety needs of the public. The Annual Business Meeting and Conference is an opportunity for ICC members from all over the country and the world to gather for education, networking and most importantly, the vital business of further developing Building Codes. I thank you for the work you do and hope that this conference inspires you, rejuvenates you, and imparts helpful new information and details to use in your work, wherever your career may take you.

As our locals already know, Clark County / Las Vegas is vibrant and progressive, a large community with something distinctive to offer everyone; entertainment, fine dining, performing arts, museums, beautiful parks, shopping and the incomparable beauty of our surrounding desert and the grandeur of nearby Red Rock National Conservation Area, Mt. Charleston, Logandale Trails, and Gold Butte. If you are from out of town, do please try to take some time to enjoy our valley while here, and be sure and come back just for fun in the near future!

Good luck and my best wishes for a very successful conference. All of us at the Clark County Commission hope you will experience a most enjoyable event.

Sincerely,
